Emilia Medick reached out to Joe Whalen to see if he had an idea of where the Right to Farm signs were and if we could get them installed at their former locations. He said he was unable to locate them but would order 4 to be placed at the four locations identified by the FPPC. Emilia will follow up to see if they have been installed.

Discussions were had on the PDRs and the PDR identification map. How to disseminate the information to those landowners that might be interested in this program. Will need to brainstorm ideas and how to approach those that might be targeted.

Solar farm installations were brought up in discussions. The committee will reach out to the planning board with some questions that people have been bringing to the committee. Of main concern was the screening of the solar farms. Topographical layouts would identify those at higher elevations being able to be in direct sight of some of the solar farms being a concern. Also, the cutting down of trees that are of sufficient height already to provide screening. How long does the solar farm have for screening to be in place?
